

SCI RAILDATA Terms of Use

SCI RAILDATA is a product of SCI Verkehr GmbH liable to pay. It comprises the weekly SCI RAILDATA newsletter as well as an exclusive account for the SCI RAILDATA database which provides access to all archived news articles. Owner of all rights and of the property of SCI RAILDATA is SCI Verkehr GmbH. Clients agree on a subscription with duration of at least one year. They designate for their part a defined number of personal users. Within the contract period each personal user obtains a sublicensable, non-transferable right of use for SCI RAILDATA. Any kind of duplication, reproduction, or transfer to third parties without SCI Verkehr GmbH's approval is not permitted. All news articles have been researched and summarised from reliable sources. Only information of the full articles of the stated sources comes into effect. SCI Verkehr GmbH does not claim responsibility for, or guarantee complete actuality, or absolute correctness for composed news articles neither for the complete record of all relevant news. They constitute no warranty in any legal sense.
